

Forestry Manager

Based: Aberdeenshire/North Angus

Salary up to £50,000, commensurate with experience.

Background Information

Fasque Forestry Limited is pleased to announce an exciting opportunity for you to be a key member of our team in the role of Forestry Manager.

In this role you will be responsible for delivering professional, high-quality forestry management services across the Fasque Group and to external clients, working on a broad portfolio of forestry-related opportunities. The role includes membership of the senior management team and offers an interesting range of field and office-based activity, including customer and industry facing responsibilities.

About You

You will have the following skills and experience:

- Relevant academic and professional qualifications.
- Strong commercial skills and at least 5 years' applicable experience, including operational experience.
- Track record of team management and collaborative working.
- Project management experience, including new woodland creation.
- Strong client and customer relationship management.
- Good knowledge of the UK Forestry Standard, UKWAS and voluntary carbon markets, including the UK Woodland Carbon Code.
- An established network of relationships within the broader industry, including regulators and similar bodies.
- Professional membership of the Institute of Chartered Foresters, or another relevant professional body, is desirable.
- Full UK driving licence.

In addition, you will be highly achievement-motivated, enthusiastic and dependable.

In return, we offer an attractive salary and benefits package, the opportunity of being part of a talented and well-motivated team, together with opportunities for both personal and career development in an ambitious and growing group of companies.
