

Trainee Forester, Graduate or Placement Year Student

Norbury Park Forestry Department is seeking an enthusiastic, highly motivated student to work as part of the forestry team on the Norbury Park Estate in rural West Staffordshire.

We are seeking to appoint forestry student or similar on a 12-month contract, to the expanding forestry team in our award-winning 800 acre woodlands.

The carefully managed woods include over 400 acres of new plantations and host a variety of innovative management techniques and scientific research projects, as well as supplying timber to our own sawmill and firewood business, Shelmore Timber.

The successful applicant will be fully integrated into the forestry team. The main areas of responsibility will be:

- Forest Mensuration, data collection and analysis.
- GIS mapping.
- Manual forestry tasks including pruning and planting.
- General estate maintenance.

A good attitude and strong work ethic are essential. A reasonable grasp of tree identification, GIS mapping systems and basic silviculture are required.

Normal hours of work will be 8.00 am to 16.30 pm Monday to Friday, but some flexibility around these hours may be needed.

This is a 1-year fixed term role, with two positions available. One position to start in July 2022 and one in September 2022 with a salary of £19,000.
