

Assistant Arboricultural Consultant & Woodland Manager.

Salary: £20,000 to £26,000

O Frost Forestry & Arboriculture Ltd are recruiting for an Assistant Arboricultural Consultant & Woodland Manager as we prepare to step into an exciting new phase. In order to meet a fast-growing demand for our services, we are aiming to expand our team to manage this business growth. We are therefore looking to provide an interesting and challenging opportunity for the right candidate.

The primary role is for an Assistant Arboricultural Consultant, however, there is a need to be able to provide assistance in woodland management tasks, both supervisory and practical as the need arises. The successful candidate will assist in the businesses' aspiration to create a more integrated management between the woodland, arboricultural, ecological and agricultural sectors.

The successful candidate will be initially working under the principal Director 'Oliver Frost', with a view to developing and managing their own portfolio of projects as they grow into the role. There will also be opportunities for this new team member to play an active role in project development with a view to contributing to developing the vision of the business.

O Frost Forestry & Arboriculture Ltd has been in operation since 2004. We are a small but growing business operating within the two main sectors of Arboricultural Consultancy and Forestry management mainly within the South West. We value and champion the relationships and connections between trees, people, ecological cycles, economics and sustainability. This complex and integrated approach to our project management aims to emulate the natural processes we work with.

As part of our vision, we aim to build a talented, resilient and inclusive team. We are looking for a self-motivated innovative thinker with a passion for the natural world who isn't afraid to get their hands dirty.
