

Technician / Tree Surveyor / Arboricultural Consultant

A unique employment opportunity to learn with Barrell Tree Consultancy, whatever stage of your career you join us, we will help you to develop your career to the next level.

There will be a strong focus on mentoring by our existing senior consultants; backed up by a comprehensive internal and external training program which includes progressing you towards the ultimate aspiration of achieving ICF Chartered status and becoming an AA Registered Consultant. Our track record proves our commitment to your career development, having supported, mentored, and funded our consultants through professional development opportunities including nine (out of nine) successful applications to become an AA Registered Consultant.

We have built a reputation for delivering the best by the best, and the following career structure is a tried and tested approach to maintaining that highest of standards. We have a wide client base and many interesting and exciting projects throughout the UK and sometimes even farther afield! This role does have some capacity for home working, but in the early stages you will be expected to be in the office several days per week (accommodation provided) as you develop your understanding of our work and find your place in our small, friendly professional team.

Applications are invited for the following positions:

Technician/Tree surveyor: Familiarisation with our office administrative procedures. Participating in supervised site visits to assess trees and collect data for the preparation of reports on tree risk, general management, and development site appraisals. Learning CAD and detailed procedures for plan preparation and report writing. £25-30,000 per annum.

Senior technician/Tree surveyor: Decreased one-to-one supervision and taking the project lead on the full range of projects with reducing oversight and increasing autonomy. The aspiration is to build a portfolio of experience and projects to attain ICF Chartered status and become an AA Registered Consultant. Salary range £30-40,000 per annum.

Consultant: Must be ICF Chartered an AA Registered Consultant. Building a portfolio of projects, with minimal oversight, and increasing responsibility. Salary range £40-50,000 + per annum.

Senior consultant: A discretionary promotion based on experience and achievement, able to take full responsibility for the full range of projects and provide supervision for the technician grades. Salary range £50-60,000 + per annum.

Benefits include normal holiday and pension contributions, travel expenses, an annual £1k CPD allowance, and professional membership fees covered.

Email a short CV to jeremy@barrelltreecare.co.uk to express an interest, and we will contact you to discuss progressing your application.
